More info:

We are not a clan or guild, we are a loose collective of like minded individuals who share a thirst & love for knowledge, who would also like that information to be shared with the most amount of people - without bias. To achieve that we plan to create & maintain an extensive network of individual/clan/guild/group built libraries that will constantly be updated with the latest books/maps/lore/history/intel/music/etc. gathered by everyone's efforts & allowed access to neutrally through the efforts of everyone's protection.
